

Automated External Defibrillators for Scuba Diving

More than 10 percent of all dive fatalities are caused by cardiovascular disease, according to DAN dive accident and fatality statistics.

■ This course represents entry-level training designed to educate the general diving (and qualified non-diving) public to better recognize the warning signs of sudden cardiac arrest and administer first aid using Basic Life Support techniques and Automated External Defibrillators while activating the local emergency medical services, (EMS) and / or arranging for evacuation to the nearest appropriate medical facility.

Before the Class

- You must have certification in CPR.
- You will need to purchase the student handbook that goes with the class.

The Class

- The four-hour class can either be split up on two weeknights or be completed over a weekend. See our schedule for days and times.

The Cost

- The course fee is
- Optional items include:
 - Student First Aid Kit

Successful Completion card is valid for 24 months.